IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE YOU WILL FIND IT IN THIS COLUMN.

The Legislature Meets—The Waterworks Finished—Twenty-One Workhouse Convicts—Wholesale Arrests—Many Local News Nuggets.

The Higgen-Wicks Wedding.
The first wedding of the New Year was that of Mr. Quirin L. Higgen and Miss Eva Wicks, which was briefly mentioned in our last issue. The wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. Jno. W. Wicks, the bride's father, on Wednesday evening, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Geo. H. Taylor of the Universalist church.

There were two couples of attendants. Mr. Louis Miller and Nola Prowse and Mr. Willmarling and Miss Lelia Wicks.

Mr. Higgen is a son of Mr. Chas. H. Higgen and is employed in the building department of Fort & Bro. He is a young man of energy, industry and excellent habits. Though only 21 years of age he has saved his earnings and owns a cozy cottage on the corner of Fourth and Brown streets, which had been prepared for the reception of his pretty little bride. The bride, an eldest daughter of a daughter of Mr. John W. Wicks. She is a young lady of a most attractive type of beauty. Of regular features, graceful carriage and a sweetness of mind, she possesses unusual attractions and most charming manners. With dark hair, blue eyes, lovely complexion and a captivating smile, her personal attractiveness entitles her to rank among Hopkinsville's prettiest girls.

The young couple went at once to honeymooning in their own home.

Wholesale Arrest at Crofton.
Deputies H. H. Goley and E. P. Wilkins went to Crofton Sunday armed with a search warrant, and in company with R. Y. Long, marshal of that place, arrested Leo Alexander, John McIntosh, Vinny Crony, Margaret McIntosh, and Lavens McIntosh, all of the local neighborhood, and three brothers named Hamby, of Dawson. They are all white and five of them are accused of house breaking and grand larceny. A few nights ago the police of J. M. Kistner and F. W. Owen, merchants at Kelly, were burglarized. About $100 worth of goods were found in the possession of the parties arrested, which were fully identified by Messrs. Kistner and Owen, as their property. The Hamby boys claim that they were only employed to move the other parties to Dawson and knew nothing of the character of merchandise packed in their wagons. They were released on bonds of $100 each, and the other five prisoners were placed in jail here.

The examining trial will be held to-day by Judge Brecht.

Whisky Case Reversed.
The case of T. W. Wootton against the Commonwealth, appealed from Caldwell county, was decided last week in favor of Wootton. He was fined $300 and given fifteen days in jail on a charge of violating the prohibition law, the trial and conviction having resulted after the law had been repealed. The Court of Appeals held that appellant could not be tried or punished after repeal of that statute for the alleged offense. There were several other cases against defendants, which will likely be dismissed under this ruling, when they are called at the next term of Circuit Court in Princeton.

Nearing Completion.
The waterworks plant is almost ready for business. The various pipelines have been tested, and put in readiness for the turning on of water. The reservoir is full of pure clear water. The standpipe is receiving its finishing touches of paint. The exact date for turning on the water has not been announced, but the system is now practically complete. Now let those insurance rates come down.

It Isn't Hopkinsville's Dick.
A rather sensational suit has been filed in the Circuit Court for the February term. W. I. Bush, of Energy neighborhood, representing his daughter, Miss Christiana A. Bush, sues Richard H. Holland, of Rock Castle district for $5,000 damages. Attorneys Fenton Sims and D. P. Smith are counsel for the plaintiff and R. A. Burnetts will defend Holland. Telephone.

The General Assembly at Frankfort.
The General Assembly at Frankfort will begin business to-day, the House Republicans and the Senate Democrats. Caucuses were held last night to select officers. The Republican State officers all look charge yesterday.

The Business Killed Him.
Panama, Ky., Jan. 6.—L. C. Co. died here at 1 o'clock this morning. His remains will be buried at Owboro. He had lately made an assignment, and it is thought his new failure had something to do with his sickness.

THE NEW LANDLORD.

Hotel Latham Will Be Well Managed in Future.

It becomes more and more manifest from day to day that eleven Jack Johnson is the very man Hotel Latham needed to make the big hotel a success. The directors of the hotel, entering into a lease a year ago that it was found necessary to cancel in eleven months. This time they determined to profit by past experience and not make a similar blunder. After careful consideration of the claims of numerous applicants the directors made a trade with Mr. Johnson, and he took charge of the hotel several days ago, as announced in the Kentuckian at the time.

Mr. Johnson came with ample experience and fresh from the successful management of one of Louisville's most popular hotels. He has adopted careful business methods in the management of the Latham and inaugurated many changes looking to the improvement of the service and accommodations. Mr. Johnson is popular with the traveling public and knows how to please his guests. He is genial, gentlemanly and comfortable. Watchful of the interests of his patrons and attentive to the details of his business, Mr. Johnson's management of Latham is a surety to command for it the largest share of success and popularity.

Mr. Johnson's family came with him and he is now settling at home in his new quarters. Like every other new comer, he is highly pleased at the air of growth and prosperity everywhere to be seen in Hopkinsville, "the best town in Kentucky," as the traveling man says.

The Lantry Estate.

The appraisers have completed the valuation of the estate of the late W. A. Lowry and the administrators have made a partial division between the two heirs, Mrs. Lowry and Mrs. E. C. Winkler. The property amounts to about $37,000, which under the law will be divided equally between the widow and daughter. The real estate amounts to about $31,000 to $33,000, according to the estimate placed on it. The farm of 400 or 500 acres, the handsome corner place on South Main and some vacant lots in the Kelly property were the real estate interests in which Mrs. Lowry had only a dower or one-third life interest. She had her dower interest in the Kelly property and vacant lots to Mrs. Watkins and has taken an absolute title deed to the residence on South Main street, valued at $7,000. The estate was practically free from debts and the administrators will make a final settlement and report in a short while.

The Vanderbilt Glee Club.

The well-known musical organization, composed of about 30 students of Vanderbilt University under the leadership of Prof. J. A. Le Barge, gave an entertainment Saturday night to a large and appreciative audience. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental music by the Glee Club and the Mandolin, Guitar and Banjo clubs. Among the special features were the diatonic songs of Mr. J. S. Johnston, of Alabama, and the whistling of Mr. L. B. Finn, of Franklin, Ky. One of the best renditions of the xylophone quartette melody by Messrs. Le Barge, Brown, Lovelace and Welburn. Mr. Johnston's "Lariat and Wedding Day" was hoisted unanimously. In fact the success was so frequent during the whole performance that almost a double program was presented. The concert concluded with the Vanderbilt yell.

Big Blast For the Work Men.

Late Thursday afternoon last the following parties were fined in the Police Court for violating disreputable house laws.

Chas. Dado, James Wood, Neal Catlett, John Rice, Ace Dillard, Sam Taylor, John Marshall, Robert Orenoff, Eph Coleman, Frank Galloway, James Jackson, James Gilman, James Munford, John Jarrett, Arthur Bass, Will Griffith, Geo. White, Tom Clark, Will Jackson, James Moore, Roy Bonles. They were assessed $5 and costs each, and nearly all of them were sent to the work house.

Lee McKee, Carrie Dulin and Harry McKee were the witnesses for the prosecution. They were each fined $15 and costs. The parties are released.

A Little Suit at Russellville.

City Judge Dunagan, of Russellville, has ruled the Herald-Enterprise Co. and J. G. Guthrie, Coke and G. Frances Lott, stockholders and officers of the Company, for the sum of $10,000 for defamation of character and damages. The judge says the defendants have no right to say that the Herald-Enterprise is a "rotten" paper.

DR. STONE RESIGNS.

SUPERINTENDENT STONE MAKES A VACANCY FOR BRADLEY TO FILL.

His Successor Already Determined Upon—Dr. Letcher of Henderson Will Get the Place.

Dr. B. W. Stone, Superintendent of the Western asylum, will not give Gov. Bradley a chance to "fire him" for political reasons. He yesterday tendered his resignation to the Governor, to take effect at his pleasure.

Gov. Bradley has already made public his intention to appoint Dr. Ben Letcher to this position.

The Henderson Gleaser, speaking of the proposed change, says:

"It is the purpose of Dr. Letcher to spend some time with Dr. Stone at the asylum, getting information as to special cases, thereby enabling him to proceed as though no change had taken place. Dr. Stone has invited Dr. Letcher to visit him and during his stay to assist him in every possible way in getting a necessary insight into the workings of the asylum and when time comes for taking charge Dr. Letcher will be equipped for assuming his duties as though he had been an official in charge for years."

He is recognized as one of the best physicians in the State, both by theory and practice, is a man of fine judgment, ample energy, and well fixed determination to succeed at everything he undertakes. Governor Bradley could hardly have made a better selection and the Gleaser is pleased to congratulate both him and Dr. Letcher.

Dr. Letcher Found His Cave.

Dick Smith, a farmer living in the 8th district, has a "dead tree" at the mouth of a cave to catch a fox-saw, some human bones on the ground. This led him to investigate further and cutting down a tree a short distance he saw one sheltering rock on one side of the cave the bones of a human being. By the position of the bones it was evident that they had been placed on the ledge and these bones put in a position to prevent it from rolling off. In the cave, the fresh earth indicated that the skull was of a child. The bones were in the forehead, making it look as if some fool dead had been committed, probably several years ago. No clue as to the identity of the child could be found. There is no story in the neighborhood of the mysterious disappearance of any persons who were not actually heard from, and the whole affair is shrouded in mystery. It will probably never be known whose skeleton Dick Smith found.

Lexington Will be Counted Out.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 4.—The contest of Wood G. Dunlap, who was the Republican candidate for the Legislature from the city of Lexington, against Mott E. Ferguson, Democrat, progressed far enough to warrant the opinion that Dunlap will be seated. Kaufman claimed to have defeated Dunlap by 126 votes, while Dunlap claims that his defeat was caused by fraud. He has secured the affidavits of 144 voters, in which they swear that they were not allowed to register, while, according to law, they were entitled to do so.

CLARKSVILLE, Jan. 4.—This afternoon E. B. Ives, alias Gray, was arrested by Chief Robinson, on a telegram from Chief of Police Morgan, of Dubuque, Iowa, on the charge of defrauding merchants. Ives was arrested at the Arlington Hotel, where he had registered as "J. G. Gray, California." Ives is a man of no appearance. He carries printed letterheads with the name of the town of Dubuque, Iowa, and is a commission merchant. Ives recently worked Paulsboro and other Kentucky towns. He was taken to Dubuque without a requisition.

It Isn't Your Mother's World.

Massachusetts, Jan. 3.—Speculation concerning the amount and character of the new bond issue was set at rest tonight when Secretary Carlin made public a circular on the subject. The idea will be a "coupon" type, and the circular, which is dated Jan. 6, gives notice that the Government will sell $100,000,000 thirty-year-per cent. bonds, known as "Treasury bonds," dated Feb. 1, 1896, for which purchasers will be required to pay gold, notes or gold certificates.

Heavy Loss to Lumbermen.

The recent rise in Green river has a great damage to the lumber in this section of the country, but a large rate of valuable logs is loosened from their moored-away. The loss is estimated at $100,000 worth of logs, and several thousand dollars of lumber.

ON TO HAVANA.

THE CUBAN PATRIOTS MARCHING ON TO VICTORY.

Comer, the Cuban Leader Too Much For Campos—Preparing to Defeat Havana—Liberty Appeals to the Sight of the Patriots.

HAVANA, Jan. 4.—Unless all indications are misleading, the end of the Cuban insurrection is at hand, and the result, it would seem, must be in favor of the insurgents, whose armies, under Maximo Gomez, Antonio Maceo and Quintin Bandiera, are nearing this city from three different directions.

Insurgent cavalry corps are believed to have been sighted from here this morning. As these advance bodies of the Cubans were Tapaste, eighteen miles from Guanabaco, practically a suburb of this city, last night, it is by no means improbable that the report that the Cuban scouts have been sighted from the lines defending Havana is correct.

It is no longer a case of "On to Havana" from the Cubans. They are here, slowly but surely surrounding this capital in their triumphant march from the eastern end of Santiago de Cuba to the capital of this island, in spite of all the best troops of Spain and the present step by step Gen. Campos has been driven back before the advance of the victorious army, until here preparations are being made on both sides for the final and decisive struggle.

TAMPA, FLA., Jan. 5.—An American passenger arriving from Cuba to-night reports that the Cubans are within seventy miles of Havana.

According to his statement, Gomez has 22,000 men. The insurgents burned Quivican, San Felipe, Duran, Melena, Del Sur and Aguera Friday night. They are now twenty miles from Havana.

DEATHS.

DOWNER.—Mr. Benjamin Downer, an old and highly esteemed citizen, died here in this city yesterday, Jan. 4th, of heart failure. Mr. Downer was born in Todd county, Ky., 76 years ago and was one of the best known citizens of this city. He was a brother of the veteran missionary John S. Downer, whose sons still continue the nursery business in this city. Of his four sons, Frank N. Downer is engaged in the nursery business at Bowling Green; Hon. J. W. Downer, ex-State senator, is a prominent lawyer of this city; Jno. E. Downer is in Texas and Rev. Renno Downer is a Baptist minister at Durango, Col. One of the daughters is the wife of Dr. B. F. Eager and the three unmarried ones lived with their father in this city.

Mr. Downer—a member of the Methodist church and his funeral services will be conducted at his late residence this morning at 9 o'clock by Rev. H. C. Settle. The body will be taken to the Fairview cemetery near Fairview for interment.

Deceased was a pious, upright and honorable man. All who knew him will testify to his worth as a devoted and consistent christian character and his integrity of purpose in all the walks of life.

Ferguson.—Eugene W. Ferguson, one of the oldest citizens of the county, died at his home in Fruit Hill district, Sunday, aged 86 years. He was one of the best known residents of that part of the county, having been a magistrate for many years and a country merchant nearly all of his long life. E. W. Ferguson was a native of Kentucky and a son of the famous Ferguson of this city. He was a man of prominence and means and leaves a valuable estate. While on his death bed, E. W. Ferguson made his coffin be made of plain oak lumber an inch and a quarter thick and put together with heavy screws. The coffin was made according to his wishes by Bailey Waller. It was of solid oak, handsomely mounted and finished, but the wood itself was without varnish or paint. The interment took place yesterday afternoon at the family burying ground, near the late home of the deceased.

Bronaugh.—Death chronicles one of the saddest events in the death last Friday morning of Mrs. Charles Bronaugh, nee Lela Daniel, a lovely young lady. Mr. Bronaugh found this gentle, lovely girl in Louisiana county, Va., who sprang from one of the most influential families of that State, using a great niece of Chief Justice John W. Daniel, of the Van Buren administration. Mrs. Charles Bronaugh, nee Lela Daniel, a lovely young lady, Mr. Bronaugh had just moved to their new home, he having recently bought the Fruit Hill property from the late John W. Daniel. The entire community sympathizes with Mr. Bronaugh.

A Physician Talks.

THE REMARKABLE STORY AND AFFIDAVIT OF DR. LEWIS BLUNDIN.

Attacked with Paralysis for Twenty-five Years—A Case of World-Wide Interest.

(From the Philadelphia Press.)

Lewis D. Blundin was born in 1841 at Bridgewater, Pa., and is now a resident of Hopkinton, Mass. He spent his early years as a private, sergeant and hospital steward of Company C, 25th Maine, during the war. As a result of an attack of typhoid fever in 1864, his kidneys became affected and this finally developed into spinal disease, which lasted through his army service. In 1868 he was married and entered Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, as a student from which he graduated two years later. The remainder of the story is best told in his own words:

"One day, after I had graduated, I was lying on a sofa at my home in Manchester, when I felt a cold sensation in my lower limbs as though the blood had suddenly left them. When I tried to move them I was horrified at the discovery that they were paralyzed from my hips to my feet. The paralysis was complete and a pin or a pinch of the flesh caused no sensation. I could not move. I called in Dr. William C. Todd, of Philadelphia. He made an exhaustive examination of my case, and announced that my trouble was caused by inflammation of the spinal cord, and that it would likely have another stroke of paralysis. I consulted Dr. W. G. Carpenter, of Philadelphia, and Dr. J. H. Green, of Philadelphia, with the same result.

"One day last September I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had always been treated with a sort of verisimilitude after the first stroke of paralysis to such an extent that I got into the habit of my mind would work and I had difficulty in saving myself from falling. My appetite was bad, digestive organs weak, and no assimilation of food. In addition to my many other ailments, rheumatism, led to a prominent place. By the time I had finished the first box of Pink Pills, I was comparatively free from these minor ills. First one of my troubles disappeared, then another until the pills got to work, and the function of the spinal cord was restored. Before I had finished the six boxes of pills, I was sitting in my chair and one afternoon, when I felt a curious sensation in my left foot. Upon investigation I found that it was in other words, became movable, and I could move it. From that time on my improvement was steady and it was nothing before I was walking around on crutches with little or no discomfort. It is three years before taking the Pink Pills that I had been able to use the crutches at any time; and I felt sure that the Pink Pills have done more good than all the doctors and all the medicine in the country and as they are not costly I can easily afford the treatment."

Sent to before me this 15th day of May, 1905.

GEO. H. HANCOCK, MD.

A Ruling Passion.

"Do you not love to wander in the rich warmth that comes when autumn forgets to be cold and harsh?" she said, gently.

"Yes," was the reply. "I am very fond of wandering. Don't you enjoy it yourself?"

"Devotedly."

"You cannot put me against any pasture," he went on, with measured enthusiasm—for she was a nice girl and he wanted to be agreeable—"that suits my nature more completely than wandering. Why, would you believe it, I was sick and bed-ridden once so sick that I couldn't get out of bed myself."

"Yes, yes, you lay there and pined for the scented woods and the blossoming fields."

"No, it was worse than that. Even though I couldn't get out of bed myself—"

"Yes?"

"My mind wandered."—Washington Star.

The schedule printed below is a comprehensive guide to the best and most desirable route to Atlanta from the North and Northwest, Chicago, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Terre Haute and Evansville.

Palmer day coaches and Pullman sleeping cars are attached to all trains shown in this schedule.

Extremely low rates have been made to Atlanta and return, via the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway. All trains run solid between Nashville and Atlanta, except train in last column. The train in third column, which leaves Cincinnati at 4:30 p. m., runs solid to Atlanta.

This is the route of the famous "Dixie Flyer," through "all the year round" sleeping car line between Nashville, Tenn., and Jacksonville, Florida.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning President Cleveland signed the proclamation admitting Utah as the 45th State of the Union. The State of Utah was admitted to the Union yesterday. H. B. Wells, Republican, is the first governor of the new State. He is a Mormon and a young man of recognized ability. Two Republican Senators will shortly be elected, as the legislature is largely Republican.

Dr. Clardy got back to Washington just in time to vote against the Reed Bland Bill. The Doctor is at his post now with a determination to keep an eye upon public measures with the view of producing the greatest public good. No one knows better than he what is best for the people, and no one is more determined than he in securing what is best if possible.—Henderson Gleason.

The Paducah Herald, is the new name of the Kentucky Populist, which last week passed into the hands of Messrs. Taylor & Dickie. It claims to be the successor to three papers—the Index, the Yeoman and the Populist. The paper under its new name and present management will be published semi-weekly.

Gov. Bradley's latest exploit is to make child's play of appointments on his staff. He has given Harry Mallon, a thirteen-year-old son of the manager of the Louisville Hotel, a Colonel's commission, because the boy tied his vanity last summer by predicting that he would be the "next Governor of Kentucky."

Mr. Geo. V. Triplett has suspended the publication of his paper, the Owensboro Sunday Post, to take editorial charge of the Daily Inquirer. Mr. Triplett is one of the brightest writers on the State press and will make himself a valuable man in the Inquirer's editorial rooms.

A ball of gold, containing a hundred millions of dollars, weighs only 233.143 pounds avoirdupois. Put into a sphere, $100,000,000 in gold has a diameter of only seven and a half feet. All of the gold in the world, used as money, would make but 37 such balls. No wonder gold is hard to get.

Gov. Bradley has allowed $4,471 of a $7,000 claim of Attorney General Hendricks for collecting some money due the State.

W. J. Ross, a former merchant of Hopkinsville, and well known in this city, died at Mt. Vernon N. Y., last week of pneumonia. Some years ago Mr. Ross was a leading saddle and harness manufacturer at Henderson, Ky., but after the marriage of his only daughter he moved to New York. The remains were brought to Henderson for interment Saturday.

AROUND AND ABOUT.

Walter Boyd was found dead in his bed at Bardwell.

The County Clerk at Bowling Green is still busy issuing marriage licenses.

The Rev. L. H. Stine has resigned the pastorate of Georgetown Christian church.

Miss Eliza Craig, aged thirteen, became the bride of Preston Gray at midday.

Mrs. Robert J. McMichael died at Lexington as the result of a stroke of paralysis.

The belled buzzard is now exciting the superstitious in the Renfrow neighborhood.

The Louisville (Col.) ice palace was opened to the public last week. The carnival will continue three months.

Ruth Jane Hensley, of Bod county, celebrated her 105th birthday last week.

The Lexington Press Transcript celebrated its 24th birthday by changing its name to the Morning Herald. It has changed hands.

Gov. Morton, of New York, has formally announced his willingness to accept the Republican presidential nomination.

Jno. B. Williamson has been appointed to succeed Frank A. McCorhill, deceased, as city clerk of Louisville.

Three persons were killed, two fatally injured, four more are missing and 31 received injuries more or less serious as the result of an explosion that occurred in St. Louis.

At Winchester there are 441 Baptists, 803 Christians, 162 Cumberland Presbyterians, 45 Episcopalians, 639 Methodists, 221 Presbyterians, 223 Catholics and 29 Jews.

The negroes are booming Auditor Stone for Governor because he has appointed a Richmond colored man Auditor's messenger at a salary of $50 per month.

Young Darling killed a man in Washington county, Ky., the other day. Lora Divine stole a wagon load of tools in Fayette county. Truly "there's nothing in a name."

Representative Isaac Wilson, of Nelson, who recently returned from St. Joseph's Infirmary, is again critically ill, and will be unable to attend the Democratic caucus. Unless his condition improves he may not go to Frankfort during the session.

Jeff Carr, of Russellville, was fined $1,550 Friday for violating the prohibition law. There are other warrants against him, and his total fines will probably reach $2,000. Carr is a man without means and will likely have to work seven years for Logan county without compensation.

The 60 suits against the Rocky Mountain Coal Company, of Chevy Chase, Wyo., on account of the killing of 60 men at Red Canon some months ago, have been compromised by the Company agreeing to pay in cash one $1,000. The suits were for $10,000 each.

In the Senate it is said that Mr. Frank B. Richardson will again be chosen as enrolling clerk. He is thoroughly competent and is very popular with all the old members and a good Democrat who doesn't vote right under the rooster, only because he can't. Mrs. Richardson will probably poll eleven votes, and possibly thirteen, on the first ballot.—Louisville Commercial.

Representative Stiglitz, of the Eleventh and Twelfth wards, is still confined to his home with muscular rheumatism, and it is a question whether he will be able to go up to Frankfort in time for the caucus Monday. He hopes at any rate that he will be at the Legislature in time to vote in the Senatorial ballot. Some one is to be sent ahead to prepare lodging for him and it is certain that he will be in Frankfort in time at least for the Senatorial ballot—Commercial.

"Uncle Minor's Stories."

The first volume of the attractive little volume of stories from the pen of Dr. V. M. Metcalf, bearing the above title, was issued during the holidays and has been reviewed by the editor of the KENTUCKIAN. It is a most attractive and readable book for the little folks. The stories contain many useful lessons and their moral tone makes the book an especially desirable one to place in the hands of children. The book is written in a most entertaining style and is profusely illustrated. It has met with much favor here at Dr. Metcalf's home and the first edition was quickly exhausted and a second edition will be out of the press by the 15th inst. We take pleasure in commending it to our readers as a book well worth the price charged for it.

The stock pens at Richmond are being macadamized.

Tired Women

Find in the blood purifying, building-up qualities of Hood's Sarsaparilla just what they need. Mrs. Ida Griggs of Evansville, Ind., writes: "I suffered almost death with local troubles, which developed into a very serious affection and made a surgical operation necessary. I was completely broken down, had numerous boils, and when I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I weighed only 112 pounds. Now I weigh over 125 pounds and am in better health than for the past fifteen years. Formerly I was covered with eruptions; now my skin is clear. I can truly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal for poor run-down women. Every one remarks about how well I am looking." Mrs. Ida Griggs writes: "I got harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla." 25c.

STATE OF KENTUCKY,

County of Christian.

W. W. GARNETT, President of Pembroke Deposit Bank, a bank located and doing business in the town of Pembroke, in said county, being duly sworn, says that the foregoing report is in all respects a true and correct statement of the condition of said bank, at the close of business on the 31st day of December, 1895, to the best of his knowledge and belief; and further says that the business of said bank has been transacted at the location named, and not elsewhere; and that the above report is made in compliance with an official notice received from the Secretary of State designating the 31st day of December, the day on which such report shall be made.

Subscribed and sworn to before me by W. W. GARNETT, President, this 3rd day of Jan. 1896.

Four hundred horses have been killed during the fall and early winter on one range near Pyramid Lake, Nevada, and but $2 was received on each animal. The hide, mane, and tail sold for that amount, and the carcass was valueless. But even at this price it was figured that it would be cheaper to kill the animals than keep them over until spring.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

RIVER BRIDGE.

Best Engineering Work for Undercarriage.

For all Ways Than the Seven Wonders of the World: The Anconeta—
Some Wonderful Facts and Figures Regarding It.

The secretary of the board recently appointed a board of officers of the corps of engineers to "investigate and report their conclusions as to the maximum length of span practicable for suspension bridges, and consistent with an amount of traffic probably sufficient to warrant the expense of construction. The leading features of the design upon which the estimates were made were as follows: A steel suspension bridge having a clear span of 3,200 feet between the towers and carrying six railroad tracks and eight side streets. The floor of the bridge to be provided with a stiffening truss, which shall be hinged at the center and be 120 feet in depth; the bridge to be carried on 16 piers, arranged eight on each side, each pier to consist of 6,000 parallel steel wires wrapped together and having a breaking strength of 28,400 tons; the diameter, inclusive of wrappings, being 21 inches. The estimated cost of the bridge is $22,185,540.

From an engineering standpoint it is not the total length of a bridge that determines its magnitude, but the length of the individual spans. The cost and constructive difficulties of bridge building increase at a rapidly increasing ratio as the span is lengthened. The Tay bridge, in Scotland, is twice the length of the Fort bridge to the south of it; but the design and erection of its three miles of short spans did not call for the expenditure of one fifth part of the skill and courage required in throwing the huge spans of the Fort bridge across the mile of deep water at the Frith of Forth. In a like increasing ratio will the difficulties multiply in stretching this mighty structure across the Hudson river.

The seven wonders of the world, that appealed so strongly to the ancients, will be completely overthrown on every point of view by this crowning feat of the 19th century. If more bulk or mass be taken as a standard of comparison, it will be bigger and heavier than the greatest of the works of the ancients, and the best known of the edge involved in its construction it will embody truths in chemistry, mathematics and mechanics that would baffle the Egyptian builders of the pyramids even more than its vast stretch of steel cables and interlacing girders.

The two masses of masonry that will have to be built on shore to resist the enormous pull of the 16 cables will in their united weight rival the great pyramid of Gizeh. The four steel towers that carry the cables will each, in all probability, overtop the lofty Washington monument, and will be exceeded in height only by one structure, the Eiffel tower in Paris. Ethically, if we may so speak, they will stand loftier than the last named, inasmuch as the Eiffel tower is merely a spectacular "freak," whereas the four great towers of this bridge will reach their full stature as a part of a great mechanical purpose.

When loaded to its full working capacity the bridge can carry in midair, at a height of 150 feet above the river, 17 heavily loaded freight trains, which, if strung out in line would be two miles in length. This would represent a total load of 26,000 tons. Moreover, it could carry this load with a large margin of safety in a tempest of wind that would endanger the stability of many of the adjacent buildings in New York city.

It is fortunate, judged from the esthetic point of view, that the great structure is to be built on the suspension principle instead of the cantilever, as was at one time proposed. Apart from the much greater weight and cost of a cantilever bridge, there is by comparison everything to be said in favor of the light and graceful appearance of the suspension bridge. The lofty and tapering steel towers, with the cables rising in a long, sweeping curve to meet them 500 feet in midair, will form a picture of almost majestic and beautiful—Scientific American.

A LAST SHOT.

How Dying Luke Short Held a Desperate Criminal.

"One of the coolest pieces of bravery I ever witnessed was enacted on the depot platform at Waukomis, O. T., in the fall of 1892," said J. T. Lemon. "Luke Short, a United States deputy marshal, had arrested a fellow of the name of Littlefield, a member of the famous Dalton gang, and was taking him to Wichita for safe keeping. Littlefield was securely bound hand and foot, and was lying in the express car on a north-bound Rock Island train. Short was sitting by him, and his close vigil was a guarantee that in due time his prisoner would be safely lodged behind the bars in the county jail at Wichita, where he would be beyond all possible hope of escaping. It was before the Cherokee outlet had been thrown open for settlement and the country along the line of the railroad between Hennessey and Caldwell was one wide spreading stretch of prairie which had been broken by a single homestead or settlement. The small depots which had been erected were more to accommodate the soldiers than for any other purpose, and a soldier again appeared as each train passed by and received the mail and express consigned to that particular station.

"As the train in question pulled slowly into Waukomis that memorable evening, Short leaped from the express car onto the platform and stood looking to see if any effort would be made by the members of the Dalton gang to release Littlefield. The latter had in some manner worked his shackles loose from his hands and as the train started to pull out grabbed the messenger Winchester and also leaped to the platform. He no sooner steadied himself than he raised the rifle and shot at Short, who was standing near the engine making ready to climb into the express car. The ball struck Short in the abdomen and he fell in a heap. He was fatally shot and seemed to realize it at once. I was a passenger in the smoker and at once started for the door to see what the matter was.

"As I gained the lower step I saw Short, who was as pale as death itself, deliberately raise himself on one arm and, pulling his big six-shooter, fire at Littlefield, who was fast getting away with the iron still on his hip. The shot fell, and the latter, who was a very difficult one, but being made in all the desperation of a dying man's agony, was also a true one, for hardly had the flash from the revolver faded away when the fleeing desperado was seen to throw his hands high in the air and fall dead. Short, after his effort, released his hold on the gun he had so opportunely used and with a gasp of two also expired. It was an eventful scene and one I will long remember, and displayed what sterling qualities are hidden in the breast of the average man who elects to risk his life as a hunter of criminals."—Kansas City Journal.

ARE SUCCESSFUL.

Tailors Kites Used to Tow Buys from Bergen Point to Staten Island. The experiments under the direction of J. Woodbridge Davis and William A. Eddy, in which messenger boys were to be propelled across the R. V. von Kull by the use of less kites, were successful, in spite of light winds and calms. Mr. Davis, the inventor of the buoys, was not present, owing to sickness, but the buoys were sent across the kills by Mr. Eddy.

The first keeled buoy left the Bergen Point shore at 12:10 p. m. and reached the Staten Island Athletic bathhouse at 12:29, thus making the distance of half a mile in 19 minutes, with a very light wind from the north.

For the second experiment, at two p. m., the wind had shifted to the southwest, so that the start was made from the Port Richmond side, with a projectile-shaped buoy having no keel. The wind was so light that the buoy was half an hour in reaching midstream, when it was withdrawn.

At the third experiment three tailless kites flying from one line were towed across to Port Richmond. The wind declined so rapidly that Mr. Eddy was compelled to haul two of the three kites down into the boat, but the remaining kite, with a slight increase of wind, towed the buoy across to Bergen Point in seven minutes.—N. Y. Times.

An Outwitted Lawyer.

A countryman went to a lawyer, laid before him a case in dispute, and then asked him if he would undertake to win the suit.

"Most certainly I will undertake the case; you are sure to win."

"Peasant—So you really think it is a good case?"

"Lawyer—Undoubtedly; I am prepared to guarantee you will get verdict in your favor."

"Peasant—Well, then, sir, I don't think I'll go to law this time, for I have just given you my own case, and not my own case. Household Words.
